

Thermal expansion & contraction

Expands and contracts with the siding

The Fullback Thermal Support System is extremely compatible with vinyl siding due to their nearly identical coefficients of expansion and contraction. The coefficient of thermal expansion in our thermal support system has been tested to be .000035 in./in./°F. Vinyl siding ranges from .000031 - .000036 in./in./°F.